DETAILED ACTION

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 2/23/05 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ueyannagi et al (6154326).

Applicants' attention is drawn to the discussion with respect to figure 10, starting at col 13 line 15 to col. 14 line 26. The various parameters, i.e., flying height (.06 micrometers), and the centerline value discussed are disclosed. The range limitation as define in claim 1 is met.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

Art Unit: 2653

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary.

Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the art as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Official notice.

With respect to claim 3, the use of thermoplastic plastic for substrate in the optical arts is well known and Official notice is taken thereof.

It would have been obvious to modify the base system of Ueyannagi et al with the above well known use of materials in order to use such for the substrate of the optical disc. Motivation is to use existing materials in this environment and hence not require the refabrication of manufacturing techniques already in use (i.e., save time, money, energy).

7. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the art as applied to claim 3 above, and further in view of Knight et al (6243350).

The use of UV as a light source in this environment is taught by the Knight et al reference.

It would have been obvious to modify the base system as relied upon above in claim 3 with the additional teaching of a uv light source, motivation is to use existing light sources for their inherent abilities already in place.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claim 2 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 2653

9. Claims 16-22 are allowed.

None of the cited prior art teach the particular header limitations as found in either of the independent claims 16 or 20. Furthermore, none of the prior art teaches or discloses the particular range limitation defined by claim 2.

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. the additional reference to Ueyannagi can also be relied upon for the reasons stated above with respect to claim 1, i.e., these references also met the claimed limitations of claim 1.
